

TRAFFIC SUFFERS THROUGH HOLDUPS

Unnecessary Delays in Bridge-Building Here

By Art Etter

Optimism can be carried too far.

It isn't often that civic officials are carried away with the speed of Edmonton living.

But in two cases recently, officials of the engineering department have evidently been caught up in the heady exuberance of a growth that is making headlines across the country. And both citizens and visitors are left holding the bag.

When the new Low Level bridge (the one above the level of the old Low Level but below the level of the High Level) was finished this spring and traffic surged across it in glorious two-lane abandon, citizens were told the old structure would be closed "for a few weeks" while the deck was raised.

Again on July 28 we were told by civic officials that curbing and approaches would take a while longer to complete, but that the bridge would be open "in about 10 days."

That 10 day period has come and gone, and open gaps where the deck has not been repaired at the piers still give solid promise of yet a few more weeks before traffic moves over the old Low Level.

Last week the civic administration gave adequate warning that traffic on 102 avenue west would be diverted so that a new deck could be laid on Groat Ravine bridge.

Citizens were told (on authority that should be above question) that the bridge would be closed "for about six weeks."

It now develops, in the opinion of men much closer to the ear-splitting air-drill din than those in the top deck of the civic block, that the city will be lucky to have traffic moving over the new bridge deck inside 10 weeks.

Apart from laying the actual steel deck, much time-consuming work needs to be done on cleaning and painting the basic steel girders, new steel supports have to be welded or bolted on to support the new deck, and there is plenty of heavy roadwork to be done on both approaches.

Non-delivery of steel admittedly held up commencement of work until the season when traffic is heaviest over the bridge. But there seems to be no excuse for causing traffic such a long period of diversion.

All the city engineer has to do is to hustle up crews of workmen to keep 24 hour shifts on the job in an all-out effort to complete the work as fast as possible. This is the usual procedure in cities of any size.

After the Low Level bridge delay, he owes that to his own conscience.

Fair Ground Landmark Being Demolished

Exhibition grounds won't seem quite as usual next year. Old grandstand, built more than 30 years ago, is being pulled down to make way for modern structure costing $500,000. It will seat 8,000. Workmen have demolition about half completed. New stand will be ready for next year's fair. Some material from old stand is being used for extensions to Clarke Stadium, where big-time football makes re-appearance this fall.

Recreation, Parks Given Clearer Policy Definition

HOPE, CROSBY HIT IT RICHER

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Bing Crosby and Bob Hope have hit it rich again, in oils this time. They are partners of W. A. Moncrief, Sr., of Fort Worth, in discovery of fresh production in the North Snyder Pool in Scurry County in West Texas.

The new production flowed at the rate of 100 barrels of oil per hour on a drillstem test.

Action Gets Started For Town Planners

own planning wheels have whirled into action in E. civi block following Monday night's council decision. Prof. John Blund has been asked to report here Sept. 1. Prof. Harold Spence-Saunders has been asked to report by the second week of September. The 35-year-old permanent town planner prospect has been asked to come to the city for a personal interview, and if agreeable, to accept immediate appointment. Mayor Harry D. Ainlay said today Commissioner D. B. Menzies has written to George Mooney, executive director of the Federal

Refugee Pole Drowns In Try To Reach Shore

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Two European refugees, denied admission to Canada, early Monday jumped off the freighter Anacostia on which they were being deported and one of them drowned. It was learned here today.

Leonard Galowitz, 24-year-old Austrian passport clerk, was said to have reached shore at St. Nicholas, Que., 100 miles down the St. Lawrence river from Montreal but his Polish friend, Paul Radwicz, was drowned. Galowitz was rescued and turned him over to immigration authorities for deportation.

Seven Words Do Wonders For the Wise

Just seven words, an address, and phone number. That's all one of yesterday's Bulletin want ads contained. But the results were as fast as the ad was short.

A West Edmonton woman asked for an experienced girl for general housework. The ad was printed in yesterday's paper, and this morning a girl was busy at work.

Farm Fatality

ALAMEDA, Calif., Aug. 10.—(CP)—Thrown off a tractor when it hit a rock, Ernest Thiel, 32, was killed last night.

MAMA IS AN ELEPHANT

Ship's Captain Unhappy At Midwifery Prospect

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Masters of ships often face tough jobs but today, in mid-Pacific, unhappy Captain W. S. Tyrrell was face-to-face with the prospect of: 1. Being midwife to an elephant; 2. Nursemaid to the offspring if the delivery is successful. Tyrrell's ship, the American President Lines' Taff, a two-hundred-ton tug, was en route to Hawaii with a cargo of wild animals from Siam, including pregnant elephants and three small elephants.

The captain radioed APL officials of Flora's condition and the luminance of the stock's arrival—he wanted advice. Kitching from the mainland began immediately. Carry Baldwin, director of the Fleischacker zoo, exclaimed: "It's a great event. Elephant births in captivity are quite rare."

He wanted that it depends on how Flora is handled whether the delivery will be a success. "Those people on the ship may kill Flora and the calf with kindness," he says. "Business, but all they have to do is to leave Flora alone and give her plenty of privacy and she'll have her baby all right."

Baldwin said, however, that after the calf is born the captain should remove it because sometimes the mothers exhibit "maternal tendencies." He said the captain will then "have to feed the baby by bottle."

But he shouldn't be alarmed. Elephants are smart animals who can take care of the baby by drinking its milk out of a bucket.

The captain's comment? APL officials say he's not talking.

$4 Million Hail Loss Heavy Blow

Business Already Feels Pinch As Farm Orders Cut

Alberta farmers reeled mentally today under impact of a $4,000,000 hail crop loss. From 4,000 to 5,000 central Alberta farmers were hit by Sunday's devastating hail storms.

Business leaders predict serious curtailment of farmer spending following the most damaging hail storms in Alberta's history.

New hail storms lashed at crops again yesterday, striking near Hards and Hanna, about 150 miles south and east of Edmonton.

These were described as of medium intensity and not as damaging as storms Sunday.

In addition to central Alberta crop damage, 10,000 acres in southern Alberta have been swept by hail storms which caused crop damage ranging up to 80 and 90 per cent.

NEAR MILLION ACRES Altogether it is estimated close to 1,000,000 acres of farmland in central Alberta were struck by Sunday's storms.

This represents about one sixth of farmland under cultivation in this part of province.

Area worst hit in central Alberta extended from Pigeon Lake, west of Wetaskiwin through Mill, Cam.

Shotgun Blast Misses Target

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—(CP)—A shotgun blast at the Union Station last night startled two trainloads of passengers, but injured no one.

After a two-hour search, a police constable found a 46 calibre rifle, on a charge of shooting with intent to maim Robert M. Smith, 46, a fellow prisoner.

Police said the rifle was on a loading platform just as Smith was about to leave on the train for Vancouver.

HM! MAYBE FUEL WASTE CHARGE TOO

CHUDLEIGH, Devonshire, Eng., Aug. 10.—(CP)—When Brig. C. E. Hudson, VC, telephoned the Chudleigh operator to report his house was on fire, she sent a police sergeant around to check before sending out the fire brigade. The sergeant got up, dressed, cycled around and found that sure enough, the house was in flames.

In time the fire trucks arrived but the house had burned down.

Now the brigadier has been billed £6 (24) for the telephone that burned with the house.

Cool Weather On the Way

Warm and sunny is the forecast for most of Alberta today.

Cooler air from the Pacific is moving slowly eastward today through northwestern B.C.

It will bring showers and slightly lower temperatures to Peace River and other northern points this evening, and showers to Edmonton and Red Deer tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Low temperature tonight and high tomorrow for the Edmonton-Red Deer region will be 50 and 70 degrees.

Jagger low and high will be 50 and 65, and Vermilion-Coronation region will have 50 and 75.

Cross-Canada temperatures yesterday:

three lives early today and left seven persons injured.

The dead are:

Frank McDonagh, 23, Mr. Henry Darveau, 28, of Donnacona, and his five-year-old son, Gilles Darveau.

Indian Is Arrested In Peace River Area

PEACE RIVER, Aug. 9.—Louis Pappo, treaty Indian of Kathleen, has been charged with murder following his arrest yesterday by RCMP.

He is charged with the murder of John Ward, 35, also of Kathleen, who was shot down outside a cabin on Lake Winagami Sunday.

The pair were said to have been friends.

Napio was arrested by waiting officers when he arrived at the home of his parents at Valleyview, 45 miles south of Kathleen.

The accused killer took to woods after the shooting and apparently struck out through the heavy timber for Valleyview.

RCMP received a "tipoff" as to his movements. Napio submitted without resisting arrest.

He is alleged to have shot down Ward following a party in a cabin belonging to the slain man on the shore of Lake Winagami. The lake is two miles from Kathleen and 45 miles southeast of Peace River.

SPORTS RIFLE Witnesses said the man walked out of the cabin with a sporting rifle and took a shot at a group of children playing nearby. No one was hit.

He is then alleged to have said: (Continued on Page 3) See "4 Million Loss"

RAF Craft Lost With 12 Aboard

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(Reuters)—The Air Ministry said today that an RAF aircraft with 12 persons aboard had been reported missing on a flight from Aden to Siala on the shore of the Arabian Sea.

She was due at Siala yesterday morning after a 400-mile flight, which the Air Ministry believed to be "routine."

The bus was still smoldering hours after the wreck. The centre section was burned down to a mass of twisted metal in which charred bodies could be seen.

It was feared identification would be a slow process. Some of the officers said, would have to be cut out of the wreckage with torches.

THIS MAN is an Alberta farmer. His name is J. D. Edwards and he farms at Amber Valley, near Athabasca. He and many other Negroes came to Alberta from Oklahoma when it introduced Jim Crow atmosphere after changing from Indian territory to statehood in 1907. ## Farm Delegation Seeks New Deal

Some Farmers Paid $15 Year Compensation For Land Use

Alberta farmers want a new deal in the way of surface rights compensation where oil exploration and drilling is done on their lands.

A group of them told Hon. N. E. Tanner, acting premier, so today. Roy C. Marler, heading a surface rights committee from the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, discussed the question with Mr. Tanner for more than two hours today.

Delegation presented a brief Mr. Tanner will place before the Alberta cabinet at an early date. Marler is president of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

GOES TO YUKON

Thom Klair, Danish-born provincial game officer for the Calgary district and life member of the Alberta Fish and Game Association, leaves next week to become game officer in the Yukon area.

Joining the Alberta wild life service in Edmonton in 1936, he worked for the past 13 years in the Calgary district. His wife and son, Reid, will join him at Whitehorse.

ARMINDED MEET

Edmonton today is a mecca for American and Canadian air cadets who have exchanged familiarization tours of both countries.

Arrivals of ranking Canadian and American airforce officers as well as cadets are due with the arrival of 12 U.S. cadets at 3:30 p.m. today.

The international exchange also includes British air cadets who at present are touring the Maritimes.

Heading the list of high ranking American civil and military officials reaching here is Gen. James Jones, USAF, commanding general of MacLellan Field, Sacramento, Calif., who arrived this morning.

MINISTER GETS GIFT

Hon. A. J. Hooke, Alberta's minister of municipal affairs, sports a "dog tag" today of which he is mighty proud. The genial minister is wearing a handsome engraved gold identification bracelet.

It was a gift from the Macleod Board of Trade where Mr. Hooke officially opened the new travel bureau on Monday. Attached to the bracelet was a gold key that will let the honorable minister into the bureau anytime he's down at the bureau.

OFFICIALS BACK

Back at their desks in legislative building today after attending opening of the new tourist bureau in Macleod are Hon. D. B. MacMillan, minister of public works, and Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of education.

License Lack Brings 3 Fines

Three Edmonton used car dealers, Roy Goldinger, Robert Lee and Paul L'Hoir, were fined $10 in police court yesterday for operating without a license.

Deputy coroner admitted the accused sold cars on a lot at 1115-95 street, from May 1 to July 20 without proper license.

It was disclosed that they had been unable to obtain a license from the city because they were not bonded.

Thieves Use Devious Ways

Two men reported theft of money from a rooming house at 2644 105 avenue yesterday.

W. Peckville had his wallet and $25 stolen from his room while he slept last night. The wallet was left on a dresser near a screened window. The screen was removed and the thief reached through while standing on a chair.

Mike Glover reported $4.50 and a cigarette lighter stolen from his dresser sometime yesterday.

He believes the door of his room may have been opened with a key.

Canada-China Air Line Starts Mid-September

Canada will be linked for the first time by regular air service to the old British colony of Hong Kong after Sept. 18.

On that date Canadian Pacific Airlines will initiate a regular scheduled passenger flight between Vancouver and the Orient. It was learned in Edmonton today.

Planes will operate two trips monthly in each direction flying by way of the Aleutian Islands and Tokyo.

Last month CPA inaugurated regular service to Australia by way of Honolulu and the Fiji Islands.

Aircraft on both routes will be Canadian Pours, which are four-engine machines each capable of carrying 36 passengers.

Fully pressurized, the aircraft fly at altitudes up to 30,000 feet and are equipped with ocean and all other modern aids to aerial navigation.

Because of the expansion of overseas operations, head offices of Canadian Pacific will be moved from Montreal to Vancouver in the next few months.

JUNE CARES IN AUGUST

Now it's the school kids' turn to laugh. The teachers are going to take some of their own medicine this week.

Tomorrow, 1,500 summer school students at the University of Alberta start writing final examinations. Almost all are teachers.

Teachers have been sweating up on some 80 subjects since the school opened July 4. They will write an average of two exams each. Exams finished today.

Writing will take place in University drillhall, convocation hall and other buildings on the campus.

Summer session officially closes August 14.

Weatherman Says July Was Somewhat Moist

Edmonton in July was no place to get a heavy bronze sun tan. In a monthly report issued today by the weather office it was shown that the sun shone for only 254.3 hours.

"Don't get excited," cautioned the weatherman, "this definitely wasn't a record amount of rain for a 24-hour period."

Records were set July 13, 1907, when a record amount of rain fell in 24 hours.

Total amount of rain for the month was 4.96 inches with 2.25 inches considered the normal figure.

With the sun being shy and rainfall heavy, the city still managed to have temperatures slightly above normal for the month.

Hottest day was July 14 when mercury reached 91.9 degrees. Three days later on July 17, coldest day of the month was recorded when the temperature touched 60.9.

Morals Cases Remanded

William White, 19, 10520-82 street, was remanded in police court today until August 17 when he reserved plea in a charge of indecency.

Detectives were called by Mrs. Mary McCallum, 2970 Jasper avenue, who reported a man had indecently exposed himself to her.

The accused was arrested in the neighborhood by detectives Frank Kingston and Alex Stevenson.

He was questioned about a series of indecent acts allegedly committed about Highland Court, Dawson Bridge hill, and Alex Taylor school.

A second man was also charged with sex offenses. He is Harry Chids, now under observation at the Oliver Institute. He was remanded until August 17 on eight charges.

Finally, the brief calls for an order on basis of compensation to farmers holding surface rights.

Youth Jailed For Car Use

Edmonton youth John Sirokowsky, 18, Riverdale Ave., was sentenced to six months in jail when he was charged in police court today with joy riding.

It was charged that on August 5 the accused had without permission stepped into a car owned by Donald Linker. He drove the car 50 feet along 82 avenue, colliding with another parked car farther down the street.

The accused claimed he was intoxicated at the time, and that he was "learning how to drive."

Drumheller Fight Fatal

DRUMHELLER, Aug. 10.—Preliminary inquest into the death of John Leuck, who died late last night following a fist fight, will be held this morning, according to Coroner Dr. G. H. Whitmore.

The fight which only lasted a matter of minutes, started according to eye-witnesses Sam Haves, after Leuck and a companion had got into a bar late in the night.

Drumheller district. When Leuck, who had fallen, failed to get to his feet, he was taken to the municipal hospital in a taxi where he was pronounced dead.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police are holding a "material witness." It was learned this morning.

Brown Rat Said Sighted At Red Deer Fair

RED DEER, Aug. 10.—Kerry Wood believes that he spotted a brown rat at the fair grounds and health authorities are laying plans for a major offensive against the invader of this rat free country.

It is believed that the rodent may have come to town via the midway track of the recent fair and the possibility that there may be more of the pest roaming the grounds has hurried the ordering of poison and traps from the provincial government.

Bad Drivers Blamed For Accident Increase

Death and destruction resulting from traffic accidents in Edmonton show an alarming increase this year.

Following is the casualty list for the first seven months:

23 persons killed;
145 injured;
1450 accidents involving damage in excess of $75.

During the same period last year there were only three persons killed and 103 injured. There were 1,247 accidents involving damage over $75.

Police this year are not listing accidents involving less than $75 damage. Had this year's list been based on the $25 figure, they estimate it would be more than twice last year's toll.

Incompetent drivers are blamed by police for the majority of accidents on city streets.

Principal offenders are drivers who weave from lane to lane, and those who turn without signalling, often from the wrong lane.

Detective Chief Alex Riddell and Traffic Sergeant A. E. Woodward emphasize the following simple rules for proper use of lanes:

Right-hand lane for slow and right turning traffic;

Centre lane for faster and through traffic;

Inside lane for fast and left turning cars.

Penalties for traffic offenses are steadily becoming more numerous and more severe.

No far this year, 1307 summonses have been issued for serious traffic offenses. Almost 25,000 tickets have been issued for parking and jay-walking offenses.

In court, penalties are gradually becoming stiffer. License suspensions up to a year are common.

Egg Market Investigated

Alberta poultrymen, alarmed at prospects of a collapse in the Canadian "egg" market, are meeting in Edmonton today to consider possible substitute egg markets.

The meeting is being held in the board room of the Alberta Poultry Marketing Association, 10207-108 street.

J. I. Wright, president of the Alberta Poultry Producers, explained that under terms of the present British contract the federal special producer board assumed responsibility for Canada's egg exports.

If Britain is unable to continue the contract with Canada egg exports might be thrown into competitive marketing with a resultant decreased export price to producers.

Loss of the British contract would create great egg surplus in Canada, he said.

With this in view, aim of today's meeting is to set up a committee to explore all angles of establishing a provincial producers' board.

This committee would ask federal authority to establish egg floor prices as a means of avoiding disaster in the industry, said Mr. Wright.

R. C. Marler, president of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, is in charge of the meeting.

Town Planning at Last

City council's decision to appoint a permanent town planner and to engage two eminent McGill professors to assist him in making a town planning survey is a step that should mark the era of progress and expansion for Edmonton.

As The Bulletin has pointed out, time and time again, all improvements in this city depend primarily upon a sound master plan.

Street paving, traffic, bridge building, zoning, and the orderly development of new residential and industrial districts all rest, first, upon a systematized plan of growth and, secondly, upon an efficient town planning expert to carry that plan into operation.

With The Bulletin's viewpoint along these lines and with its campaign to implement that viewpoint, the Edmonton city council appears to be, finally, in accord.

But with the further point advanced by The Bulletin that town planning should be left to the expert town planners, the city council does not appear to be in accord.

It is an unfortunate exception because, if the administration continues to interfere in matters that belong exclusively to the town planning department, that department might just as well not exist at all.

For example, Monday night's council meeting afforded several instances of beating the gun on the town planning survey.

The council, for instance, passed a resolution defining what buildings were to go on the civic centre. This resolution declared that the communications building, the market building and the civic auditorium should be located on that site.

Now obviously the civic auditorium should go on the civic centre. But it will require a good deal of fast argument to convince many citizens that the market should be up against the auditorium and that a communications building has any proper place in such an area.

Clearly, the matter of deciding the structural composition of the civic centre should have been left to the town planning survey and the town planning experts.

And if the first job of the experts must be to undo amateur town planning by the council, the work is going to be seriously handicapped.

The point is that the experts must be given a free hand without any preconceived fetters. Such plans, such plans as the contents of the civic centre originate with them. The council's proper function, then, would be to accept or reject.

If the new town planning set-up is allowed to work without hindrance, it can transform this city into something of real levelness.

And yet Red Deer has enjoyed such a good time for 18 years.

The provincial government should give the question a little more serious thought.

Edmonton's loss to Calgary of the Farmers' Union convention, planned for last December, because hotel accommodations are not sufficient here, should emphasize the immediate need for a vigorous campaign to bring new hotels to this city.

The Farmers' Union convention lasts four days. It draws 500 delegates and an equal number of visitors.

During those four days, the 500 delegates and 500 visitors will spend at least $10,000 in whatever community their convention is held.

When this convention is forced to go to Calgary instead of Edmonton, as originally planned, Edmonton businesses lose a minimum of $10,000.

If this city loses 100 such conventions a year, as it probably does, Edmonton business takes a beating to the extent of $1,000,000.

Edmonton is very much in the line.

Obey Those Traffic Lights

A traffic light only has value when it is obeyed.

When it is disobeyed, it is a menace rather than a help because pedestrians and motorists are not looking for cross traffic when they are travelling with the light.

The point is that too many motorists are getting away with running through amber or even red lights.

This violation is increasingly common at Jasper and 100 street and it is rendering the traffic signals at that point more of a nuisance than a safety factor.

Edmonton traffic must be made to obey these lights even if it means stationing a constable at these corners twelve hours a day.

There is no sense in spending money on traffic lights if some few motorists refuse to pay them any attention.

Edmonton.

Editor, Bulletin—It's good business to have someone expect that's what you're doing.

I live on 108A avenue and across the street is the large playground for the children who congregate there by the hundreds each day and evening.

What for? To get the benefit of the sunshine and outdoor exercise and enjoyment or eat the terrible dust that engulfs the playground when ever the wind blows in a southerly direction.

This could be avoided if the city would water the gravel street around the grounds. Also as home owners in this district could possibly keep our houses clean for at least a day from the ever setting dust that is hanging around 108A avenue.

In the west and where public playgrounds are located in a block, and no one takes the street but the owners, the streets are often protected from the dust.

It's about time this city's administration did something for the people that are paying taxes and the four-legged animals in a district more than others.

I sometimes wonder where our city's departments learned that and morning coat asked me what I was doing.

CHAIRMAN: What did you say?

GUBBINS: I told him I wasn't in charge of the chairs. I said I was looking after the ducks.

CHAIRMAN: Can you think of any other occasion when you were improperly dressed for an occasion?

Gubbins said that in the 1930's he flew to Sicily in semi-evening dress to describe the eruption of Mount Etna from the air. He would not say if semi-evening dress was the correct wear for observing volcanic eruptions.

CHAIRMAN: Why did you go in semi-evening dress?

GUBBINS: I was covering an assignment in evening dress on hour or two before the eruption.

CHAIRMAN: What exactly do you mean by semi-evening dress?

GUBBINS: I had no time to remove the evening shirt. I changed the bow tie for a knotted tie.

A member of the commission: What did the Sicilians think of an Englishman dressed like that?

GUBBINS: When I landed at Catania they mistook me for Mussolini.

CHAIRMAN: Why?

GUBBINS: Partly because of a slight physical resemblance, partly because the knotted tie and wing collar was Mussolini's usual wear before he took to uniforms.

Mussolini, there was an open machine with no protection but a wind-screen. So they mistook you for Mussolini.

CHAIRMAN: How do you know they mistook you for Mussolini?

GUBBINS: Because they shouted, "Viva."

CHAIRMAN: Did you accept the present?

GUBBINS: All except two goats.

CHAIRMAN: Can you think of any other occasion when you were improperly dressed for an occasion?

Gubbins said that in the 1930's he flew to Sicily in semi-evening dress to describe the eruption of Mount Etna from the air. He would not say if semi-evening dress was the correct wear for observing volcanic eruptions.

CHAIRMAN: Why did you go in semi-evening dress?

CHAIRMAN: What exactly do you mean by semi-evening dress?

GUBBINS: I had no time to remove the evening shirt. I changed the bow tie for a knotted tie.

A member of the commission: What did the Sicilians think of an Englishman dressed like that?

GUBBINS: When I landed at Catania they mistook me for Mussolini.

CHAIRMAN: Why?

GUBBINS: Partly because of a slight physical resemblance, partly because the knotted tie and wing collar was Mussolini's usual wear before he took to uniforms.

Mussolini, there was an open machine with no protection but a wind-screen. So they mistook you for Mussolini.

your engineering. I've noticed around the city where the bus stopping areas are being torn up and rebuilt when buses were put into use.

The saving was done for trolley buses. Did not the engineer's department know the stress and shock caused by stopping of these heavy buses, when paving was done and make one job cost less than two instead of using the taxpayers' money to rebuild the pieces every year or two.

It's time someone woke up to the fact that the people of Edmonton are not all dumb. I've lived here 30 years and seen a lot of progress made, also a lot of blunders. It's time for a change.

Christ is Answer

Editor, Bulletin—Spread over this continent of ours lies a seething wasteland of torn lives.

This wastage is usually traceable to a family background which has been founded on hatred, intolerance and prejudice.

The various social sciences have proven to be ineffectual in trying to fix this situation; but true Christianity, the gospel of Christ, has proven countless millions of times over the centuries to be God's answer to man's petty problems.

Selfishness is the chief cause of trouble. Christ demands selfishness.

When Christ, instead of selfishness, is worshipped in the home by parents and children alike, that home can never fall; for true love has been found.

A MODERN CHRISTIAN.

Film Star Stewart Glad He Left Bachelorhood

By Patricia Clark
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Jimmy Stewart, who battled against matrimony for 21 years, said today he was glad he took the plunge.
The gangling movie star gave up his crown as No. 1 Hollywood bachelor to marry Gloria McLean, 21, a pretty divorcee who caught him by playing hard-to-get.
"Oh, boy, marriage is fine!" he said. "I'm glad my bachelorhood is over."
SLIPPED SHACKLES
Stewart slipped on the shackles he dodged to long late yesterday before 25 movie stars and relatives while 450 disappointed women fans gazed outside the police-guarded church.
Mrs. McLean, in a grey satin ankle-length gown, was as nervous as she shook going down the aisle to the delphinium-decked altar. But she perked up after Stewart slipped the plain gold band, inscribed "Jimmy and Gloria, Aug. 9, 1949," on her finger.

"Well, I got him," she crowed triumphantly to friends.
Stewart admitted he was much more scared than his bride. Guests could hardly hear his faint "I will," on her finger.

Case of Haunted Boy Baffles U.S. Scientists

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(UP)—The strange case of a 14-year-old "haunted boy" who has been harassed by unseen forces was under investigation here today by scientists who specialize in psychic phenomena.
It was revealed by Richard C. Darnell, president of the Society for Parapsychology who said the story was given to the society by a Washington clergyman.
IMPRESSIVE CASE
Darnell said Dr. J. B. Rhine, director of Duke University's parapsychology laboratory, considers the case "one of the most impressive that has come to his attention."
Here is the clergyman's story, as relayed by Darnell:
"The boy's family, residents of Washington, are members of his congregation. They came to him and explained that their son was extremely troubled by unexplained scratches on the walls and ceilings which follow the lad about. They said that at night his bed has been shaken so violently that at times he has been unable to get any sleep until 3 or 4 a.m."
The clergyman urged the family to let their son spend a night at the ministry home where he could study the phenomena first hand. They agreed.
BED SHAKES
When the boy first went to bed in the minister's home and the bed shook so violently that the clergyman could see the lad was unable to sleep. The boy then got up and radiantly posed for a few seconds on the steps of the fashionable Brentwood Presbyterian Church. before they soared off to a small reception and a stay-at-home honeymoon.

"We don't mind," the brunette bride giggled when a photographer asked them to pose kissing, and she snatched Jimmy loudly.
The hundreds of women in the crowd, some in shorts and bathing suits and some carrying cameras, showered them with rice and yelled "good luck." A dozen police pushed them back from the church.

B. C. Wage Battle Shapes Ominously

Industry Asks Wage Cuts To Counter Union Move

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10.—(CP)—British Columbia's $300,000,000 forest products industry today appears to be headed toward disturbing times. It's the direct result of a new approach by logging operators—carrying the battle of the wages to the workingman's doorstep.
Thirty-two thousand coastal loggers, seeking 15-cent-an-hour wage raises through the union, the International Brotherhood of America (IOB-CCL), have been answered by the operators: Take a 15-cent-an-hour wage cut or face partial closure of the industry.

UNION CONSIDERING
The operators presented their stand in a brief submitted to a conciliation board yesterday. The board, currently hearing the dispute, adjourned until Thursday to allow the union to consider the operators' reply.
Last night, a bulletin to its coastal loggers, the union termed the wage-cut counter proposal "posteriorous" and announced that if the conciliation board returns an unfavorable decision "we are in for a fight."
For the first time since the depression, operators are asking that union loggers take the wage cut, an upward adjustment in hours of work, and other contract revisions that would mean a loss of ground gained through costly strikes since 1946.

39 LEASE PLANTS
Coastal firms, operating 165 camps, told the conciliation board that 4,000 less men and 39 fewer plants are working this year.
Reason given was that the wage scale, raised to 95 cents in 1947 and $1.06 last year, is too high in the face of the falling United Kingdom market.
Other union demands for a union shop, employee-financed health scheme, and reduction of board rates have been flatly refused.
The coast operators' move was followed by a similar one on the part of northern interior industrialists. They asked the union's 2,000 men to take a 20 per cent cut, a return to the 48-hour week, and a general resumption of the conditions of 1946.

GENERAL RAISE
The men want a 15-cent-an-hour raise.
"The west coast operators' brief to the conciliation board said: 'The inability of the United Kingdom to purchase B.C. lumber has caused a serious question, the most serious injury sustained since the enactment of the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act in 1930, which virtually eliminated many of our mills from the U.S. market.'"
The men want a 15-cent-an-hour raise.

BROTHER-IN-LAW
The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dean Osterberg, Mrs. McLean's brother-in-law. New York manufacturer Gregg Draddy, gave her away, and MGM talent scout Billy Grady, who gave Stewart to the movies in 1932, supported him as best man.
The bride formerly was married to sportsman Edward McLean, son of the late socialite Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean. She says she got Stewart because she was in a hurry to get married again.
After a few days at home, the newlyweds will fly to Morgan, O., where Stewart will be parade marshal at the soap box derby. They will start a long Honolulu honeymoon Sept. 7.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Barbara Stanwyck gives out with another reason her decade-long marriage to Robert Taylor has lasted.
The actress was asked on the "East Side, West Side" set if she would co-star with her husband. Her reply: "We're letting well enough alone."
"We don't want to tempt fate too much," she added. "Besides, we just don't have a desire to work together. We did one movie together years ago and it was terrible."

La Montez has apparently abandoned Hollywood. She finds the money and the living pleasant on the continent. At present she is in Venice making "The Thief of Venice" with George Sanders and Paul Christian.
"Tarzan" fans may be shocked to see Lex Barker get kissed by "Slave Girl" Denise Darrin in his next film, "Long and Lingerin'." The studio adds the ape man usually goes kissless in his films.

Polio Fight Hope Based On Facts

Diligent Research Campaign Reveals Three Varieties

Are polio research scientists making headway in their battle to prevent infantile paralysis from being an annual threat to children and adults? United Press Science Writer Paul F. Ellis reports great strides have been made. His investigation is based on a recent tour of the polio laboratories as compared with a trip to many of the same laboratories three years ago. Following is the final of a series on polio research.—EDITOR.

By Paul F. Ellis

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Three years ago I visited the nation's top polio research laboratories and found there was plenty of hope that the disease would be conquered. The hope was based mostly on hope itself.

Today, having just returned from another swing around the country visiting the polio laboratories, I found there still was hope. This time, it is hope based on fact and knowledge. Scientists now are not guessing. They are on the right track.

There was a time when scientists thought there were as many as 20 to 30 different varieties of polio or infantile paralysis. Today, after a more concentrated research campaign, the scientists have found only three varieties of the disease. There may be others, the scientists point out, but in studies of epidemics in various parts of the country since 1914, they have found only the three major varieties.

MORE KNOWLEDGE
All of that means, according to the scientists, that a much better understanding of the disease has been obtained. Such an understanding will mean the development of ways to combat and control infantile paralysis.

From visiting the polio wards in a typical epidemic area, such as San Angelo, Texas, it was apparent that diagnosis of mild cases of the disease still is difficult. However, new techniques are now being perfected that will help detect the polio virus in early stages of the disease, without the long drawn out process of inoculation of experimental animals and without the long wait to see whether the animal comes down with the disease. A diagnostic test seems to be coming up.

POLIO VACCINATION
The problem of vaccination in polio appears not yet solved, but with new knowledge gained in the last three years, the scientists are now cutting corners and finding other direct routes which should lead them to the answer. The fact there may be only a few varieties of polio is sure to speed up the development of a vaccine can be developed, the scientists believe.

One of the major accomplishments in research of the last three years has been the development of the technique to grow the polio virus outside the human body. The virus, a parasite, lives only in the presence of living cells and it was believed that the virus could grow and multiply only in the presence of nerve cells or brain tissue.

SPILT DEFENCE
Stuart foresaw at that time a "fragmentation of the non-Communist area of China with the defence of each province against Red advances falling more and more into the hands of provincial leaders. Stuart is regarded by the government's top foreign policy makers as an outstanding authority on the country.

In recent months he has particularly emphasized the growing weakness of the nationalist regime due to divisions among its leaders.

This latter is an important point in the development of further American policies of trying to slow down, if not to halt, further Communist advances. There seems to be no doubt that one line of action which the United States is considering is aid to those anti-Communist forces which give real promise of continuing their fight.

Millions Disabled In Germany Because Of War

ESSEN, Germany, Aug. 10.—(Reuters)—Western Germany has 5,500,000 military and civilian war victims, a statement issued today by the league of disabled persons said.

There also are 3,500,000 persons incapacitated by age and sickness and 1,700,000 persons who have permanent injuries as the result of industrial and other accidents, the statement said.

A service veteran with 100 per cent disability receives a pension of 180 marks ($30) a month, while a widow with three dependent children whose earning capacity is only 30 per cent, receives 120 marks a month.

Body Identified At Medicine Hat

MEDICINE HAT, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Preliminary inquiry was made here last night into the death of Joseph Wells, 60-year-old farmer of the Medicine Hat district, whose body was discovered Monday.

Body of the farmer was found hanging from a fence about a mile from his home by a CPIL section crew. The inquiry was adjourned indefinitely following identification.

South Pioneer, 66, Dies At Calgary

CALGARY, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Miss Albert S. Corbett, 66, pioneer resident of Southern Alberta, died in hospital here yesterday following a lengthy illness.

Sister of Emerson, Man, Mrs. Corbett moved to Glenora, Alta., while a child, and lived at Medicine Hat from 1880 to 1901 before taking up permanent residence in Calgary.

Her mother is in winter hibernation.

Now it has been learned that the virus can be grown with certain other types of human tissue cells. This is expected to lead to a means of producing large quantities of virus for vaccine purposes.

The overall research project, financed by the national foundation for infantile paralysis, appears to be at a critical point—a point where several victories may come.

DARK PICTURE
The one dark picture of the recent trip is the panic and hysteria that results in many communities stricken by polio. The experts on polio epidemics are confident that drastic community quarantines are not necessary.

The scientists believe that rather than community quarantine such as closing of schools, movies and churches it is better for the families where polio has stricken to avoid close contact with other persons. The studies show that voluntary measures are obeyed in better spirit and are more effective than the wholesale disruption of the community's social routine during a polio epidemic.

Polio cases are increasing now, but word from the research laboratories indicates that victory over the disease is almost in sight.

Tourists Use New Bureau

MACLEOD, Alta., Aug. 10.—(CP)—Alberta's first official government Tourist Information Bureau was officially opened here yesterday by Economic Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke and Works Minister D. R. Macdonald.

First guest tourist to sign the Bureau's register was Miss Barbara Purrington of Bristol, Conn., a teacher and writer. She penned her name and that of Barbara H. Warner of Roslyn, New York. The young women are on a 6,000-mile tour of Canada and the United States.

The bureau is housed in a rustic log cabin and will maintain 24-hour service. It is at the junction of two highways.

DUKE OF EDINBURGH HORRIFIES TAILORS

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Savile Row's precedent-toughy tailors threw up their hands today over a new sartorial whim of the Duke of Edinburgh—high-wing collar with a double-breasted dinner jacket.

The Duke, whose often unorthodox dress sends shivers through Britain's leading cloak-and-suiters, turned up at the select Albany Club Monday in the new combination.

The double-breasted dinner jacket fashion is only about 10 years old in Britain and the usual accompaniment is a white turn-down collar.

Time Out

By Dick Beddoes
RADIOVICH LINE COACH
 On this last Wednesday in the week a man who coaches the eye from a distance of 14 miles has been appointed line coach of the Edmonton Eskimo football club. That would be Bill Radovich, a big boy from Los Angeles, whose total displacement has been rumored to range from 250 to 285 pounds. His appointment as instructor in the mechanics of line play evidently rules out any possibility of Jerry Seagriff handling that chore.

Mr. Radovich came to Edmonton after Bob Bradburn, Eskimo agent, paid a visit to Los Angeles on scouting trip last spring. One day Mr. Bradburn chanced to stop in at the steak house which Weighty William owns.

As it turned out Mr. Radovich served Mr. Bradburn in person. "Radon, my good fellow," said Mr. Bradburn, "but you have a familiar look. You resemble a football player named Radovich who used to play for the Detroit Lions. You must be his five brothers."

"Not at all," replied Weighty William. "I am that same Radovich."

"That's impossible," said Mr. Bradburn, squinting his eyes for a better look. "Why, friend, as you appear before me, you are approaching cubic measurements exceeded only by those of a baby whale."

"Maybe I am slightly stouter than before," admitted the steak salesman, gazing down fondly on his bay window. "Since being banned from the National Football League for jumping the line in 1946 I have grown some on the choice petterhouse steaks served in my establishment. I have a cak for breakfast, steak for lunch, steak for tea, and . . ."

"Dessert!" cried Mr. Bradburn. "You are going off that diet immediately. I am going both you down to a more appropriate size, give the rest of you to a suit dispensary, and take you north to play guard for Edmonton Eskimos."

At that eventful moment Mr. Radovich tipped the beam at 295 pounds, more or less. Today he is playing guard and coaching line men at 250 pounds, give or take a gram.

The abridged edition of Mr. Radovich can teach a madman a young man a lot of football. And until better steak house proprietors are transformed into better playing-coaches, he is going to be a valuable gentleman to have around.

FROM FOX TO WOLF

Until recently, Calgary Stampeder coaches thought a nice crop of chickens had come to roost in Victoria Arena for the 1948 season.

Big just when they were rousing this valuable puck-chasing fowl down swooped a vulture. He was Lester Paterson, who came as the Silver Fox of Manhattan, but now more properly called the White Wolf of the Rockies.

Lester retired from generalizing New York Rangers last year and went to Victoria to die. But while rigor mortis set in he is going to run a Pacific Coast League hockey team in the British Columbia capital.

Among those he has lined up to play are some of the Lethbridge salvage, like Don Gibson, Ken Simpson and Don Menzies.

These three are reported to have convinced Stan Maxwell, Roy Himer, and Jack Taggart, who Stampeder fans were in the Calgary coop for keeps, that salt water is better for the mind than the Rocky Mountain dew. The last named trio is rumored also winging westward to the White Wolf's lair.

All of which makes him an old pirate in the twilight of his career.

Podersky Upset In Amateur Golf

Danny Podersky, who tied with Jim Harper for low medalist honors in the City Amateur qualifying round (each had a 70), is now on the outside looking in following yesterday's matches at Municipal golf course.

The former Municipal champion was the first upset victim of the tournament as Johnny McDonald, Edmonton County club, squeaked through with a narrow 2 and 1 win in the first round.

Rated as one of the men to beat for the crown being defended by Highland's Vern Mohs, Podersky couldn't get going as McDonald, finalist in the 1945 City Amateur, won the same course, played steadily to take out a win.

McDonald carried a one hole lead after the first nine picking up another hole coming in with some fine putting. Glenn Gray, provincial champion, eliminated Herman Martell 7 and 6.

Bill Gaultie, Highlands breezed through the most lopsided victory of the day when he ousted Johnny Glasgow 7 and 3. Sonny Ewenston was cast aside losing a 3 and 2 thriller to Lloyd Greer. R. Morgan was forced the full distance before edging Bruce Barry, one-up.

Play will continue during the week with competitors required to complete two matches before the week end. Final is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 21.

Former City Sportsman Home

Two former Edmonton athletes and sports figures who have not been in the parts for quite some time were among those taking in last night's ball game at Renfrew Park.

They are Leo Ornest, brother of referee-umpire Harry, and Whitey Rimstad, of the hockey-playing fame.

Ornest makes his home in California these times, while Rimstad is living in Lethbridge.

near it's a wonder Madison Gardens remained Square all the years he was mixed up in it.

LOYD MANGRUM ... Nerves of steel, ver. 70, took second and $500 with 70 for 307.

Third place, and amateur honor, went to 19-year-old Alton Bauer of Los Angeles with 77 for 312.

Frank Stranahan defended his amateur men's title with a final 69 and a 72-hole total of 286. Louis 29-year-old accountant from West Hartford, Conn., who slamed 67-69 on his first two rounds, closed with a 74 for 288 and second place.

Seaman Hot After Cubs Tonight

By comparison with last season, when he won 13 times against two reverses, this hasn't been a particularly outstanding year for the Cubs' rightlander Jerry Seaman.

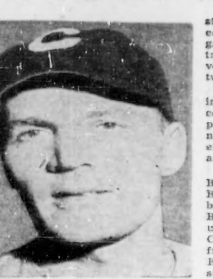

Latest reckoning shows him with a 7-5 record in 13 big league title-bat. Not bad. But nothing like a 13-2 mark.

However the average good hurler does not often have two seasons in a row when he is virtually unbeatable. And looking at it in this light, Seaman has been a valuable pitcher this term, just as he was when Ekks swept to a league title a year ago.

Add to his mound service the many games in which Seaman has performed in left field and he comes out a pretty useful all-around member of the Morgan clan.

The rightlander will be on the mound tonight when Ekks clash with Cubs for the second time in as many nights.

As Seaman poses, as they were

JACK HOBSON ... Three for three.

stopped last night when Ekks edged them 5-3, just a single game will separate the local entries in what long since has developed (deteriorated) into a two-team race for the top slot.

By the widest stretch of the imagination last night's encounter could not be described as played. For one thing the winning Ekks brigade committed six errors and Cubs chipped in with another couple.

As well the starting pitcher, Bob Stuart, Cubs, and Ed (Lefty) Holm, Ekks, were serving up 34 bases-on-balls between them. Belier finally was driven out under fire in the ninth inning.

Cubs, trailing 9-5 as the final frame opened, threatened to lead Ekks to Jenkin as they scored three times and had the bases loaded when 'Slim' Cloviski forced Barry Robertson at second for the final out.

Jack Devine took over from the unhappy Belier. He made his debut by serving up four wide ones to Robertson, forcing in the eighth Cub run. Then, following resumption of play after a five minute delay because of rain, he made the dangerous Cleveland ground to Ed Morris, filling in at short last night for Len Karlsen. Later is on the sick list.

In their exciting 12-0, 11-inning tilt last week, teams took turns on the front end. Ekks quickly built up a three-run lead in three innings only to blow it through the fourth to top of the seventh with some highly un-different play.

Then they closed strongly to score three runs in the bottom of the seventh and as many more in the eighth.

Cliff Johnston, once he got straightened away the last two errors in right field as Cubs went ahead 5-3, provided the spark needed to carry them to win. The hard-hitting gardener got into Stuart for a double and a pair of singles, bailing in five runs all told.

The hit-by-batted-ball situation entered the picture in the ninth and served to slow up Cubs' heat. It was a little after the hit on the leg as Bernie Anderson smacked a little after the ground. Ryan was out—automatically—and Anderson was given a base hit.

Cubs' catcher Doug Stevenson was credited with three RBIs. . . Umpire Harry Ornest and Belier reportedly jawed each other a little after the game. Belier is reported to have asked "Why don't you beat down?" to which Ornest retorted, "You get the ball in there and I'll call it a strike."

It was Stuart's first loss after five victories. . . Cubs' Reg Clarkson hit his double of the season in the fourth.

Choukalos' Booming Bat Gives Purity 6-1 Victory

CALGARY, Aug. 10.—Big bat of Ernie Choukalos, who connected for a single and homer while driving in four runs, last night led Purity to a 6-1 victory over the luckless Calgary Buffaloes before 1,200 ladies' night fans at Buffalo Stadium.

Choukalos' homer, his 19th of the season, tied him with Reg Clarkson, Edmonton Cubs, for the league lead.

Buffa put on a fighting display. Twice, in the sixth and seventh frames, Buffs were retired with the bases loaded and a total of 13 Buff runners were left on bases in the game.

Dick Barnes, Purity, and Ken Terry, Buffaloes, both were tagged for 10 hits and each fanned six batters. Barnes gave up three bases on balls, while Terry kept a clean sheet in four innings.

Choukalos drove in two runs with a single in the third and added two more when he lifted the ball over the left field fence with one man on in the sixth. He also singled to bring in the Olin's fifth run in the eighth and the winners' scoring was completed in the ninth, when Fred Gratto singled and caught home as Carl Carlisle hit into a double.

Buffa saved themselves from a shutout in the fifth when Terry moved to third on two errors and Gratto then scored an unearned run on Blackhall's fly to the outfield.

Favorites Beaten In Civil Service Meet

EDMONTON BULLETIN, Wednesday, Aug. 10, 1949

Defeats suffered by Bill Logan, winner of the Ferris cup at the recent provincial tourney, and seeded Bob Cameron featured men's singles competition as play continued yesterday in the annual Civil Service tennis club tournament.

Logan was swept from the blue-ribbon event by Alf Ingall, bespectacled city badminton champ who comes to tennis. Ingall bowled over Logan in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2.

Cameron got his walking ticket at the hands of slender Stan Coppi, dropping the verdict in a hard three-setter, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

George Docherty also advanced, scoring decisively over Rick Sinclair, 6-2, 6-2.

Colville 6-3, 7-5, in the outstanding match in ladies' singles play.

Confidence High Note In Soccer Wigwams

CALGARY, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Hamilton's razor-dazzle youngsters and North Vancouver's seasoned veterans were waiting on the sidelines for the start of the 11th annual soccer match between the two teams which has never suffered defeat on a Calgary track and Don Little, Hamilton's star winger, was in the prairie circuit during the last four years.

Both clubs were expected to be at full strength for tonight's contest, although clever outside left Frank Ambler was expected to be used only sparingly by Vancouver. He aggravated an old groin injury in the opening game and was unable to play Monday.

NINE YEARS LATER, nurses and patients watch men of London's Bomb Disposal unit bring a 2500-pound bomb to the surface after removing the fuse. The bomb, one of thousands dropped by the Germans in '40's blitz, had lain underneath a partly demolished building until it was discovered recently.

Ottawa Archivist Says File Custody Difficult

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Dr. William Kaye Lamb, keeper of Canada's historical documents, today said that because the Dominion archives was having difficulty obtaining custody of government records, it no longer was serving historians and research students "as it formerly did."

The Dominion archivist said in a brief prepared for the royal commission on arts and science development that the federal government's files "now constitute one of the most valuable sources of information on many questions."

But the flow of these files into the archives has been retarded.

Very few The archives "has been given custody of relatively few of the important files covering the decades since confederation."

What was urgently needed was the establishment of a well-equipped and well-staffed Canadian Public Record Office which would have control over the movement of historical documents and government files no longer required by various departments.

A "promising and important step in this direction was started a few years ago when a public records committee, headed by the secretary of state, was established," said Dr. Lamb. "Whenever a department wants to destroy its records it now has to seek permission from the committee."

ARE RETAINED "Any files deemed to be of permanent historical value are either transferred to the archives or retained by the department if a transfer is not practicable at the moment," Dr. Lamb said.

If space were available, "this procedure could develop very easily into a systematic plan for the transfer of documents."

Dr. Lamb said one way the archives could be made more accessible to the general public would be through the use of microphotography. By micro-filming the major files of the archives a scholar "anywhere in Canada" could obtain archives documents speedily.

Price-Fixing Said U.K. Subject at U.S. Meet

By Alan Harvey

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Proposals for fixing the prices of selected raw materials by international agreement are almost certain to be advanced by Britain when she resumes financial talks with the United States and Canada in Washington early next month.

The purpose would be to stabilize returns for such commonwealth products as rubber, wool, jute and tin. In return, Britain would agree to import stated quantities of such United States products as cotton, sugar and tobacco.

These commodity agreements, it is believed here, would help to bolster the income of the sterling area by assuring stable prices on exports which recently have dropped in value in world markets.

PART SOLUTION A spokesman for the treasury said that such commodity pact would help to solve only part of the problem. He said that Britain still feels the real root difficulty is that it is impossible now to maintain a balanced trade with the United States—and to some extent with Canada—because the things the United States wants are so small compared with the things other countries want to buy from her.

Treasury officials here are acutely conscious of recent American, and to a lesser extent Canadian, criticism of Britain's political policies.

During the last few days British newspapers have given prominence to stories with United States headlines, suggesting that Britain's position now lies at the lowest ebb since the Munich Agreement of 1938.

As far as can be learned, there is no intention here of trying to counter statements that Britain's crisis is the result of her efforts to create a welfare state.

British officials consider such criticism is unfortunate but they say British Socialism has often been the whipping boy for all Europe's ills.

Australian Coal Strike Collapses

Miners Rebuff Leaders By 2 To 1 Vote After 7 Weeks

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 10.—(UP)—The seven-week-old Communist-led Australian coal strike collapsed today when miners throughout the country voted to return to work by more than two to one.

The vote was 5,403 to 2,343. Acting President R. Hamilton of the Miners' Federation said the federation's central council would meet Friday or Saturday to issue a back-to-work order.

It was the first time in Australian labor history that the rank and file of the miners' union rejected the proposals of their leaders.

Communist leaders of the strike had insisted that the miners remain out until the government met their full demands for wage increases, long-term vacations and nationalization of the industry.

Although only 23,000 miners were on strike, the lack of coal paralyzed all Australia, causing industrial shutdowns that threw an estimated 750,000 persons out of work.

Electric and gas services were drastically rationed in the middle of the most severe winter Australia has seen for years, bringing hardship to the entire country.

Government authorities refused to meet the miners' demands, charging that the strike was a political maneuver by the Australian Communist party.

Government information Minister A. A. Cawell in a recent speech pledged the government would break the strike first and "wipe out" the Australian Communist party later.

Ottawa Receives Five Proposals From Manitoba

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Five points for suggested discussion in connection with dominion-provincial relations are included in a letter from Manitoba Premier D. I. Campbell to Prime Minister St. Laurent requesting immediate convening of the dominion-provincial conference.

The letter, made public yesterday, suggested discussions on plans to insure financial stability of the provinces, plans for sound productive policies on public investment, conservation and development of natural resources, development of social security measures and encouragement of industrial and agricultural development generally.

Fires Controlled

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Ten small forest fires which broke out Sunday in eastern Manitoba were reported under control today.

FIRE CREWS ENTER SPEED COMPETITION

CALGARY, Aug. 10.—(CP)—The time they start off on the fire hose-laying teams from 13 Alberta fire departments will compete in the first province-wide contest of its kind here Saturday, climaxing the Calgary Fire Fighters' Association's fire prevention week.

Entries have been received from Edmonton, Forestburg, Pancher Creek, Red Deer, Okotoks, Lethbridge, Wetaskinwin, Lacombe, Edson, Fairview, Claresholm, Macleod and Calgary. Each will enter a four-man team.

Speed is the main factor in the contest. Teams will be judged from the time they start off on the fire rig, until the target is hit by the stream of water.

In addition to the contest, members of the Calgary and Edmonton fire departments will play-off the annual baseball game, demonstrations of fire fighting apparatus and other events.

Adams' Relics Put on Display

QUINCY, Mass., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Two reeling-type bathrobe and a hooded foot-sloaker once used by President John Adams and John Quincy Adams are among artifacts on display at the 218-year-old Adams home-stead here.

Norse-Argentine Trade Pact Set

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Norway has agreed to deliver to Argentina approximately $10,000,000 worth of newspaper and other types of paper under terms of a trade pact signed yesterday.

Norway also will supply pig iron, tool steel, prepared vitamins, cod-liver oil, fish products, machinery, cement, wood and luxury items such as furs.

Argentina will send Norway corn, vegetable oils, meat, bacon, wool, dried fruits, glycerine, cheese, flour and other food products.

Casagama Find Is Important

By Hal Dean

Although Casagama Oils Limited lower cretaceous discovery near Stettler did not free due to low gas pressure, the find, nevertheless, is important and should stimulate further probing of the promising area. The well is about seven miles northeast of Gulf-Elles No. 1 two-zone Devonian discovery and drilled to 5,350 feet and plugged back to the lower cretaceous.

Gun perforating was done of the intervals 4,291 to 4,331 and 4,340 and later from 4,300 to 4,219. Yield of eight barrels hourly for four hours billing was finally reported and with no water.

Pump test of potentiality will be made as soon as equipment is obtained. Gravity of oil was 28.5 degrees.

8 LLOYD COMPLETIONS

Of eight wells completed in Lloydminster area during July, only one (Husky Greenstair) was abandoned. Three completions (Alberta Leasehold No. 1 and Pacific Western Martin No. 35 and 56) were on the Alberta side of the boundary.

Completion for Lloydminster area since the first of the year reached by the end of July and casing was set in 42, while four

Metals Dip Under Pressure

Some Industrials Move Up; Western Oils Halt Advance

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Prices moved irregularly in the dulltest session so far this week on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. A few industrials managed to show a firmer tone while base metals and golds reacted in the opposite direction. Western oils were down, but a half from two days of upturn as profit-taking cut into gains. Volume was about $24,000 shares.

International Paper turned brisk in continuing firmer paper and light steels and refining oils showed fractional declines. A few utilities and liquors lightened. Some smaller gold issues turned briskly while junior and senior producers slipped slightly lower. Norbelle Malarie continued a highlight in activity following proposed refining and recapitalization plans.

Base metals dipped for the first time in six days. Sheritt Gordon was active, fluctuating from the plus to minus columns.

New York Stocks Push Forward

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(AP)—A recovery movement rolled steadily through the New York market, pushing up gains of fractions to nearly two points. The volume was around 17 million shares.

Rails and steel led the upward movement which got underway in the afternoon after a slow start. Lines also were active and leaders were unchanged to fractions higher.

Chicago Grain In Comeback

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Grain recovered a part—but not all—of an early loss on the Board of Trade today.

The market sank during the morning on moderate selling and liquidation of corn in anticipation of a bumper crop forecast from the agricultural department after the close. Soybeans with a few scattered gains and losses, the latter holding a slight edge.

St. Lawrence Corporation, first preferred, jumped 1½ to 20, while mild advances were noted on Brown preferred, Consolidated Great Lakes, International and Albitil Paper.

Consolidated Smelters and Hudson Bay Mining, with 5 and 10, respectively, in metals.

R.A. and McGill were strong in senior securities, while British Dominion Gaspe and New Pacific were penny gainers in Juniors. Imperial Oil slipped 4.

Steel, common and preferred, eased slightly. Wabasso jumped 6 points to 13.

Penny losers in mines included Sherritt-Gordon, United Asbestos, and Sulphur. East Sullivan and Giant Yellowknife Mining Corporation was up 25 cents to $11.50.

Oats, Barley Respond To Shipper Purchases

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Switzerland purchased 330,000 bushels of wheat at the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Other sales included 350,000 bushels to Turkey and 200,000 bushels to Iran.

In the coarse grains futures market, oats and barley prices again showed a firm tone from buying activity to shipper interests. There was some buying in oats. Offerings, including hedging sales, were fairly liberal in oats and moderate in barley.

Barley showed some hesitation in early trading but rallied later in the session on buying accredited to American houses. Trading was moderately active.

Class two wheat prices were unchanged. No. 1 northern going at 2.08.

Vital Choice Faces Western Germans

Sunday Slated For First Central Vote Since Hitler

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Western Germans will decide next Sunday whether a one-armed, one-legged victim of Hitler's torture chambers or a scholarly, aloof lawyer will be the most powerful figure in the new German federal republic.

New Tremors, Pillaging Hit 'Quake Area'

By BEN MEYER

QUITO, Ecuador, Aug. 10.—(AP)—New earthquakes and pillaging by unruly Indians spread fear and panic today among the thousands of survivors left homeless by Ecuador's destructive earthquake.

Official government estimates of the death toll in Friday's quake rose to 6,000. But no one knows for sure how many perished in the great piles of rubble that litter some 50 demolished towns in the rugged Andes mountain region south of here.

FURTHER TERROR

Fresh tremors yesterday tumbled weakened walls in Ambato and other cities, adding to the terror of some 150,000 homeless.

Groups of workers attempting to dig their way through the blocked highway to Pellin, 160 miles south of Quito, were reported buried under a landslide loosed by the new tremors.

Shoot-to-kill orders were issued to troops guarding Pellin against looting by the wild tribe of Salasas Indians.

Continuing landslides and sulphurous fumes coming from jagged crevices have terrorized the countryfolk who escaped the worst effects of the shocks.

Kiwanians Hear Report

A summary of the Kiwanis International convention was given to the members of the South Side Kiwanis at their luncheon yesterday in the King Edward hotel.

Alex Cunningham, president of the North Side Kiwanis who recently returned from the convention held in Atlantic City, N.J., made the report.

His talk included a resume of the speeches made by five famous international speakers attending the convention.

Parma, known to epicures for Parma cheese, and to flower lovers for Parma violets, is also a storehouse for religious art.

Trans-Canada Road Start Set for Spring

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—(BUP)—Work on the $400,000,000 Trans-Canada highway, stretching 5,000 miles across the country, will probably start next spring, it was learned here.

THE PENGUINS STICK TO IT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Breeding instinct in some penguins is so strong, reports a San Francisco ornithologist, that they may try to hatch lumps of ice. The little Adelle penguin may continue to brood though completely covered with snow.

Germans Oppose Industry Plans

FRANKFURT, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Dr. Kurt Schumacher, chairman of West Germany's Social Democratic (socialist) party said last night the Germans "will not actively look on as our greatest production plants are being destroyed."

Referring to the allied program for dismantling German war plants, Schumacher said it is not nationalistic if one defends the remaining fortunes of Germany against foreign nationalists.

MOTHER GETS WISH

Sultan Brings Touch Of Arabian Nights

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(Reuters)—The Sultan of Johore, Malaysia, today brought the touch of Arabian Nights to post-war London.

While recovering from an operation, the 75-year-old Sultan read of the efforts of Mrs. Albert McCarty, a divorcee, to obtain possession of her 10-year-old daughter, Violet Mary. Today, says the Evening News, Mrs. McCarty walked out of the Sultan's hotel suite with a cheque for

Globe-Trotting Doctor Is Bugs About Bugs

You've heard of people who have a "bug for travelling."

Well, meet a man, who has been a world traveller for bugs. He is Dr. Ernest R. Tinkham, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Tinkham, 1942-47 avenue, who has travelled as far as China and Korea to study grasshoppers and fleas.

And not only is Dr. Tinkham a first rate entomologist (one who studies bugs), he is also co-founder of a brand-new science called "entomology," which is the study of deserts.

With Dr. Forrest Shreve, of the desert laboratory at Tucson, Arizona, Dr. Tinkham has pioneered in the study of deserts.

He has studied grasshoppers in the desert-like Milk River Valley region in southeast Alberta and he has explored untouched areas of desert in northeastern Mexico.

Dr. Tinkham attended Queen Alexandra public school and Strathcona high school here, graduated with a B.Sc. from the University of Alberta in 1927. He took his master's course at Montana State College in 1928 and his doctor's degree from University of Minnesota between 1929 and 1930.

His first home interested in deserts in Texas in 1928. In recognition of his years of research he was given a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1936 to continue his desert studies.

When Dr. Tinkham leaves Edmonton this week he will go to the Coachella Valley in California, 125 miles east of Los Angeles.

There, he will dig into the problem of controlling a plague of insects that every year cause a painful eye disease among the people.

Two Deaths Launch Probe Of Mystery

YORKTON, Sask., Aug. 10.—(CP)—RCMP tonight were attempting to untangle the mysterious deaths of two persons, one a 29-year-old mother of seven children, and the other believed to be the woman's husband.

The self-chilled body of Mrs. Pauline Darichuk was found late Monday on a bed of an old unused farm-house near Fitzmaurice 30 miles west of here.

HOUSE BOARDED

The house was one of two on the Darichuk farm. Police said the door of the old house was locked and windows covered from the inside with cardboard.

After an all-day search by 17 members of the RCMP, police were led by a police dog today to some bushes along the railway tracks at Fitzmaurice village.

There they found a man's body with the head blown off. Alongside lay a .303 calibre rifle. Definite identification has not been made of the body but it is believed to be George Darichuk, husband of the dead woman.

BODY DECOMPOSED

Mrs. Darichuk's body was badly decomposed that cause of death will not be known until an autopsy is held. Police said she appeared to have been dead for "well over a week."

Severely ill Mrs. Darichuk was started when hospital officials here complained she had not called for some time. She had been recently released in hospital. The six other children were said to have been living with neighbors for the last two weeks.

Pair Discover Pitchblende

REGINA, Aug. 10.—(CP)—After a two-month uranium search in northeastern Saskatchewan near the rim of the North West Territories, two young prospectors were in Regina today with some pitchblende samples they think are "hot."

The pair, Austin Johnston of North Battleford, Sask., and William Sharpe, a Vancouver prospector, were registering claims and awaiting reports from Ottawa on samples of the radioactive rock which they claimed earlier.

The team have staked claims in the Black Lake area of Saskatchewan, about 100 miles east of Goldfields.

Samples brought back show high uranium content, but a spectrographic analysis made in the east will determine actual content of radio-active material.

Their samples came from an area in which two other uranium finds were reported last month.

"We brought back samples from two groups of claims," Mr. Johnston said in an interview, "and we have good showings in each of our groups."

About 10 prospecting parties were working in the Black Lake area which he termed "the hot spot of the world" as far as uranium was concerned.

The prospecting team went north in early June. They flew from Prince Albert to Black Lake—about 450 miles—and travelled the rest of the way in their claim staked by canoe. The following two months were spent in an intensive search with a Geiger counter.
